PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

If you want to create a wood burning fireplace in a new or existing home, the Firefox OFP system ensures you can have a fireplace in the architectural style that your desire - almost anywhere.

Designed not to spill smoke and fully complied to Australian standards, the system is many times more efficient than a traditional brick built fireplace and can be positioned on a timber floor without the need for special footings/foundations.

A simple non-combustible enclosure (zero casing) around the system is all that's required. The unit can then be surrounded with timber framing and plasterboard making the architectural options virtually limitless.

Convection Firebox includes Wood Firegrate and Ashpan, Gather & Safety Screen.

Zero Clearance Kit extra cost.
