PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Jøtul F 400 is a large wood stove, with room for logs of up to 50 cm. This model has a large external ash removal solution which facilitates convenient emptying of the ashes. The ash lip catches ashes that may accidentally fall out of the combustion chamber.

The wood stove has a large glass door that provides a perfect view of the burning logs and is embellished with a pattern that outlines part of the Norwegian coastline. Jøtul F 400 is available in maintenance free enamel or black paint.

Advantages

- Cast iron
- Can burn 50 cm long logs
- External ash removal solution and ash lip
- Easy operation with only one air vent
- Large combustion chamber
- Large glass with perfect view to the burning logs
- Available with enameled surface
